Angela MacFarlane has extensive experience representing corporations and individuals in complex matters. Her practice includes products liability, vehicle warranty and consumer litigation, trucking and transportation litigation, and general liability matters. In products liability cases, Angela represents manufacturers, distributors, and retailers.

She represents her clients in both state and federal courts throughout Virginia. Drawing on her legal skills and experience, Angela vigorously advocates for her clients and obtains successful outcomes through trial or various forms of alternative dispute resolution. Angela proudly serves as the treasurer of the Metropolitan Richmond Women's Bar Association.

A Virginia native, Angela returned to Virginia after graduating from the University of Connecticut School of Law and served as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable Richmond B. Potter of the Prince William County Circuit Court. Prior to joining the firm, Angela prosecuted in various courts throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia for several years. Before prosecuting, Angela represented Prince William County in the Prince William County Juvenile and Domestic Relations District Court and Circuit Court.
