

Employment Law

Harman Claytor's Employment Law Practice Group has offices in both Virginia and the Washington, DC area with an earned reputation for aggressive and effective representation and defense of public and private employers in an array of employment law disputes. Our employment law attorneys have extensive experience handling and defending all types of employment disputes—from charges of discrimination filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to state and federal litigation.

We also counsel clients on how to prevent employment claims, as well as proactively handle claims before a lawsuit is filed. Our attorneys routinely assist with internal investigations and provide guidance on administrative agency analysis for situations that arise.

Our Employment Law Practice Group attorneys have successfully defended employers in a variety of cases, including:

- Discrimination Under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964
- Discrimination Under The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967
- Discrimination Under the American with Disabilities Act of 1990
- Sexual Harassment, Hostile Work Environment and Workplace Retaliation
- Violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Family Medical Leave Act
- Violations of 42 U.S.C. § 1981
- Wrongful Discharge and Breach of Employment Contract
- Breach of Contract
- Defamation
- Claims of Hazard Wages and Commissions
- Non-Compete Agreements
- Wrongful Termination Allegations
- Constitutional Rights Violations, Including Due Process, Liberty Interest, and Free Speech Rights

Additionally, our employment law attorneys routinely speak and provide training on relevant employment law topics to attorneys, employers, and employees.
